

I AM POEM

I am Malala
I wonder why talibans hate education
I hear gunfires and explosions
I see the beauty of Swat disfigured by terrorists
I want to be educated and to educate others
I am strong and determined to learn

I pretend to be tough and brave even when I'm afraid
I feel sorry for the uneducated and narrow minded
I touch the glimpse of the freedom my country can achieve
I worry about my family's safety
I cry when my family gets hurt
I am strong and determined to learn

I understand the true essence of education
I say it fearlessly and with pride
I dream of my country to be free and fully educated
I try to promote and support education
I hope I can contribute something to this world
I am strong and determined to learn